Brooklyn Public Library
ANNUAL REPORT
Fiscal Years
2012/2013
In 2013, Brooklyn Public Library launched an exciting new brand. The mark is clean, current and reflects a new way of thinking about the Library. Brooklynites have long been coming to BPL to begin new journeys, such as opening new businesses, learning English and finding jobs. Our tagline, Start Here, embodies the Library’s role as a place where everyone can begin achieving their goals.

As we embark on the next era of service for the Library, our logo symbolizes our renewed commitment to providing the best possible service to the public. And by rolling out our brand across all 60 of our libraries, we will provide a strong visual identity for the institution as a whole, raising awareness of the Library system and its ties to every neighborhood in our borough.

The past two years at Brooklyn Public Library (BPL) have been marked by a groundswell of new activity throughout our Library system. We have undertaken many historic institution-building initiatives, co-locating community services, transforming our physical spaces and expanding community access to our resources.

The new Shelby White and Leon Levy Information Commons at Central Library exemplifies our commitment to connecting Brooklynites to the latest in technology and digital learning opportunities. In addition to basics like surfing the web and editing resumes, patrons come to this technology-rich space to learn how to create podcasts, build websites and edit digital photography.

We have also tackled major issues facing the communities we serve. During the depths of the recent recession, BPL formed a ground-breaking partnership with New York City’s Department of Small Business Services to help meet the increased need for job placement services. In the fall of 2011, we opened Workforce1 Career Centers at Sunset Park and Central libraries. Since opening, they have placed over 3,000 jobseekers.

Our 60 neighborhood libraries are at the heart of their communities, gathering spaces for people young and old. Maintaining and improving our libraries is one of our greatest priorities and challenges. In November 2012, we were thrilled to open our first newly built branch in two decades. Constructed with sustainable materials, Kensington Library is the borough's first eco-friendly library and a model of what a modern library branch can and should be.

BPL’s critical role in its neighborhoods was strikingly evident during the aftermath of Hurricane Sandy, when thousands of Brooklynites turned to their local libraries for support and resources. In the days after the storm, BPL dispatched Bookmobiles to act as charging stations, opened Red Hook Library as a Warming Center for residents without power and heat, hosted Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) representatives at Central Library and gathered food, clothing and other supplies to distribute to impacted areas. Though six of our libraries sustained significant damage, we have since repaired and reopened all of them, and many now look and function better than they did before the storm.

In recent years, we have repositioned BPL as a center of community, knowledge and innovation in the digital age. We hope you will join us as we continue to unlock new worlds of information and opportunity for all Brooklynites.

Sincerely,

Anthony W. Crowell
Chair
Brooklyn Public Library
Board of Trustees
We are so grateful to the thousands of people who have supported Brooklyn Public Library in recent years, including our Board of Trustees, elected officials, foundations, donors, staff, volunteers and interns. You have helped us make vast improvements in our buildings and spaces, which in turn improves the quality of the services we offer.

In January 2013, we released a Strategic Plan outlining our key goals for the years ahead. Our priorities include promoting children’s literacy, lifelong learning, access to Library resources and creative expression; presenting an inclusive environment and spaces that meet the needs of our patrons; and developing a responsive culture of service within our institution. By focusing on these areas, we will ensure that the Library continues to thrive and remains an important and relevant institution for all Brooklynites.

In alignment with these goals, last year we opened the Shelby White and Leon Levy Information Commons at Central Library. Featuring a training lab, public meeting rooms and seating and outlets for 70 laptop users, the Info Commons is at the forefront of our efforts to promote digital literacy across the borough and connect our patrons to the technology they want and need.

I am also pleased to report that our Passport Application Acceptance Facility, which opened in May 2011, has been a resounding success, processing over 21,000 passport applications in its first two years of operation. In response to the strong demand for these services, in June 2013, we expanded the facility and began offering longer hours on Saturdays and Sundays. We further increased access by opening an additional passport center at Kings Highway Library.

As we launched these new projects, we have remained focused on growing our signature programs. Tens of thousands of Brooklynites sign up for BPL’s Summer Reading program annually, and since its inception, the Today’s Teens, Tomorrow’s Techies (T4) internship program has engaged nearly 1,000 teenagers, providing them with free technology training to help enhance BPL’s service to the public. All of these important initiatives are designed to advance the Library’s mission while adapting to the changing needs of twenty-first-century library patrons. Thank you for helping us to remain a vital source of information, education and recreation for Brooklyn’s 2.5 million residents.

Very truly,

Linda E. Johnson
President & Chief Executive Officer
Brooklyn Public Library
Brooklyn Public Library promotes educational enrichment in every community. Each year, Summer Reading encourages patrons of all ages to explore new books and library resources. Many of our programs for children and teens, including events for early readers and Today’s Teens, Tomorrow’s Techies (T4), provide opportunities for Brooklynites to learn and grow.
BIG BROOKLYN PLAYDATE
FY2012

BPL’s First Five Years program invites babies and toddlers to Central Library for fun games and activities that encourage literacy.

TODAY’S TEENS, TOMORROW’S TECHIES (T4)
FY2013

Teens who participate in T4 attend workshops to learn about technology, and then use their new skills to help patrons at the Library.

MULTICULTURAL INTERNSHIP PROGRAM
FY2012

Students who volunteered through the Multicultural Internship Program worked behind the scenes with librarians to develop programming and resources.
MYBPL MOBILE APP

- MYBPL MOBILE APP

A new online catalog was introduced to enhance the search experience for patrons. We also launched an app for smartphone users, for on-the-go account and catalog access.

POWERUP!
BUSINESS PLAN COMPETITION
FY2012

Participants in BPL’s PowerUP! Business Plan Competition—like FY2012 winner Nidhi Jalan of Masala Mama—attended classes at the Library to learn about what it takes to open a small business.

WORKFORCE1
FY2012

BPL partnered with the NYC Department of Small Business Services to open Workforce1 centers at Central and Sunset Park libraries, to assist thousands of Brooklynites in finding jobs.

SELF-CHECK MACHINES

Self-check machines installed throughout the system helped patrons borrow materials easier and faster.
Ensuring that our Brooklyn communities have access to the latest materials and resources is a top priority at BPL. Our PowerUP! Business Plan Competition, in partnership with Citi Foundation, helps Brookynites realize their dreams of starting a business. Exploring our collections also became easier with our new online catalog, and borrowing materials became a cinch with self-check machines installed throughout most of the 60 BPL branches.
An integral part of providing access to resources is creating inviting spaces for patrons throughout the BPL system. The Shelby White and Leon Levy Information Commons at Central Library offers a variety of technology classes and is equipped with state-of-the-art computers and software. Recent upgrades also include a brand new building and location for Kensington Library, the first “green” library in NYC, the grand re-opening of Park Slope Library and a new learning center at New Lots Library.
PARK SLOPE LIBRARY REOPENING
FY2013

After extensive renovations, the historic Carnegie branch on Sixth Avenue now features new and improved public spaces for children, teens and adults.

KENSINGTON LIBRARY OPENING
FY2013

Constructed from sustainable materials, the new Kensington Library houses 18,500 square feet of public space, multi-purpose rooms, new computers and self-check machines.

SHELBY WHITE AND LEON LEVY
INFORMATION COMMONS

Thanks to a generous grant, the Info Commons at Central Library provides private meeting rooms, new computers and software, and seating and outlets for laptop users.

EXHIBITIONS AT CENTRAL LIBRARY

FY2012
This exhibition celebrated the history, art and beauty of fashion illustration, and featured never-before-seen images from the highly influential fashion illustrator Antonio Lopez.

EZRA JACK KEATS/NYC DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION BOOKMAKING COMPETITION
FY2012
For over 25 years, New York City students in grades 3 to 12 of every public school have been invited to participate. In 2012, BPL hosted the citywide exhibition and awards ceremony for the first time.

CORTELYOU LIBRARY MURAL
FY2012
Brooklyn-based artist Kathryn Hall partnered with BPL to transform the exterior of Cortelyou Library in Ditmas Park with her bold piece, Tumble.

RED HOOK LIBRARY & SPACEWORKS PARTNERSHIP
FY2013
The underutilized space in Red Hook Library will be upgraded with affordable rehearsal space for community-based dance and theatrical companies.
Cultural events at Brooklyn Public Library reflect our dedication to fostering the community’s creativity. Art exhibitions at Central Library feature the borough’s great artists or Brooklyn-themed pieces, including a recent send up to fashion illustration and a look back at the humble beginnings of the Central Library building. The Library has also partnered with local artists and arts groups at branches like Cortelyou and Red Hook, and has featured pieces from the Ezra Jack Keats Foundation/NYC Department of Education Bookmaking Competition.
Like the rest of the tri-state area, Brooklyn was severely impacted by Hurricane Sandy. BPL suffered devastating damages to Coney Island Library, as well as significant damages to Red Hook, Brighton Beach, Gerritsen Beach, Gravesend and Sheepshead Bay libraries. Despite the losses and with limited resources, BPL was able to provide vital help to neighborhoods most affected by the hurricane. This included serving as a Warming Center and a FEMA-designated shelter and by dispatching Bookmobiles where needed.

Coney Island Library Renovation
CONEY ISLAND LIBRARY
FY2013

Coney Island Library was hit the hardest during Hurricane Sandy. Collections and equipment were lost in the storm. In 2013, the branch repairs were completed and the Library was open again to the public.

BOOKMOBILE HELPS WITH RELIEF
FY2013

The Bookmobile served Hurricane Sandy-impacted neighborhoods until devastated libraries could be repaired.

GOOGLE NEXUS 7 TABLET PILOT PROGRAM

Thanks to a generous donation from Google, the State of New York and The Fund for Public Schools, 1,000 Google Nexus 7 tablets are now available for use by our patrons and in our public programs at branches in neighborhoods impacted by Hurricane Sandy.
BIKE THE BRANCHES

FY2013

BPL launched a fun, new way to raise money, asking Brooklynites to Bike the Branches in May 2013. The all-day event included neighborhood tours with special readings and programs at select branches. The day culminated in a Finish Line Celebration at Central Library.

SUPPORT OUR SHELVES
FY2012

For years, BPL had reached out to patrons for contributions during the Support Our Shelves fundraising campaign. In 2012 we exceeded our goal, affording for the purchase of new Library resources.

SUPPORT THE BRANCHES & ADVOCACY
FY2013

In 2013, Support Our Shelves evolved into Support the Branches—together with advocacy efforts from the community, BPL raised $570,000.

ANNUAL GALA

The 16th Annual Gala was moved from October to February following the devastation caused by Hurricane Sandy and raised over $440,000 for BPL.
Brooklyn Public Library is able to thrive and provide free programs and resources to all Brookynites through the generous support and advocacy of foundations, corporations, elected officials and private donors alike. The Support Our Shelves initiative evolved into the Support the Branches campaign that garnered $570,000 in donations in its first year. In addition, the Bike the Branches spring appeal was a fun, new addition to fundraising efforts at BPL.
Brooklyn Public Library developed a strategic plan through feedback from patrons, elected officials, trustees, employees and community members. Six major goals were identified, which would adapt with the needs of our Brooklyn communities: education, access, culture, inclusion, space and stewardship.
We will continue to engage parents and educators, support job seekers and entrepreneurs, and increase our digital training and new technology offerings.

You will find improved accessibility to library resources, information and services.

By supporting creative expression and the arts, we will deliver even more cultural programming and increase our focus on local history, writers and authors.

BPL will increase usability for non-English speakers and immigrants and enhance services for transitional populations and older adults.

Our technology-rich branches will be designed to meet the needs of every community.

BPL will develop and maintain an adaptive and responsive culture of service across our library system.
